

We are leaders in our field

Over the course of 22 years, we have established ourselves as a reliable and trusted insurance partner in the Lloyd's market. Our consistent approach, technical expertise, and adaptable risk management strategies have contributed to our strong reputation and long-standing presence as a leading provider of liability insurance in the UK and Ireland.

Our portfolio includes a wide range of lineslips and delegated authority arrangements. These are complemented by our highly regarded claims service and industry-focused risk engineers, both of which form the foundation of our comprehensive product offerings.

With over 100 years of collective experience underwriting Casualty, our team is adept at tailoring client solutions for diverse industry sectors. Our broad underwriting appetite allows us to cater to both specialised and general risk exposures, ensuring a personalized approach to meet our clients' needs.

Embracing innovation

As a forward-thinking organisation, we actively pursue and implement the newest technological advancements in underwriting to increase efficiency, accuracy, and provide more reliable insurance solutions.

Internally, we have adopted an array of technological tools and methodologies to streamline our underwriting process. These include data analytics tools that allow us to examine and interpret vast volumes of data rapidly and accurately, AI-powered risk assessment systems that enable us to evaluate the risk profile of potential clients with greater precision, and machine learning algorithms that help us identify patterns and trends. Beyond adopting these technologies, we cultivate a culture of digital literacy and adaptability, offering regular training and fostering continuous learning.

Ultimately, our commitment to innovation in underwriting is about enhancing our service offering.
