Risk Management at your fingertips

Take your professional development and risk management to the next level

The Design Professional unit of AXA XL has been providing insurance and risk management to architects and engineers for over 50 years. Policyholders receive more than protection; they gain a partner in preventing risk.

A Unique Loss Prevention Education Program

Effective risk management requires constant learning. Included with a policy, our risk management program provides education and practical advice to help you stay ahead of today's liabilities. Listed by the AIA as a top 10 provider of awarded learning units, our staff is made up of specialized claims consultants and risk managers helping to educate A/E's in the design profession. Workshops, case studies, eLearning courses and webinars are available and can be tailored to your firm's risk profile.
