You're covered. Wherever you are.

Our AXA and Network Partner operations span the globe, ensuring that we're there where you need us.

Our Network Partners are managed via our regional Hubs, and the arrangements we have in place with them incorporate service level agreements, claims handling procedures, reinsurance setup and many other features.

In some territories we follow a "dual partner" strategy that offers the flexibility and agility to allow us to react quickly to changing environments and expanded client needs.

Your needs. Our speed.

Known for fast money movement, AXA XL's award-winning captive fronting service endeavors to ensure there are no 'speed bumps' in the movement of your money to your captive.

For example, we don't pool premium, delaying funds in a central clearing house, before we cede it to captives.

This means money moves much faster through our global infrastructure - in days rather than weeks or months.

We complement our speed of money movement with our broad range of solutions in partnership with risk managers, captive owners, their brokers and consultants, including captive fronting programs, parametric covers and employee benefit programs.

A partnership you can build upon

At AXA XL, we believe in partnerships.

With our flexible program design and delivery of accurate and real-time data, we will proactively manage your captive programs to help you maximize the economic and operational value of your business.

We're committed to captive fronting partnerships and have experienced Global Program & Captive Regional Directors located across all our Business Units. Their primary objective is to support our captive fronting clients to get the most out of fronting services whilst also establishing new partnerships and providing thought leadership to the captive insurance space.
